

ARE YOU READY FOR YOUR AAALAC SITE VISIT?

Whether you are looking to become an AAALAC accredited program or coming up on your triennial site visit, our team of subject matter experts can help. Our team includes ACLAM Diplomates and CMAR/LATG-certified managers experienced in leading teams in animal care use program execution and successful AAALAC site visits.

Draft Program Description

- ☐ Accurately and completely describe your specific program's operations
- ☐ Ensure information fully answers AAALAC instructions
- ☐ In the process, ensure your operations meet regulatory requirements and industry standards

Coordinate for Site Visit

- ☐ Request site visit date
- ☐ Ensure all required parties are available for each component of visit
- ☐ Understand and execute Institute roles, responsibilities, schedule during site visit

Present AAALAC site visit orientation training to all program staff

- ☐ History of AAALAC, roles of AAALAC, benefits of accreditation
- ☐ Focus areas for site visits
- ☐ Question and answer sessions

Perform preparatory review of all program areas

- ☐ Animal Care And Use Policies and Procedures
- ☐ Occupational Health
- ☐ Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) - Review and Revisions
- ☐ Veterinary and Animal Care Services
- ☐ ACUC Semi-Annual Reports and Findings
- ☐ Laboratory Space Approved for Animal Procedures
- ☐ Disaster Plan
- ☐ Facility Maintenance and Operations
- ☐ Animal Biosafety and Biosecurity Operations – ABSL 1-4
- ☐ Animal Study Protocol Documents, Post - Approval Compliance
- ☐ Training – Documentation and skill set validation for all program staff (veterinary, technical, husbandry, investigator, and animal care and use committee members)

SoBran BioScience

sobranbioscience.com • info@sobranbioscience.com • 703.352.9511

SoBran BioScience has over 20 years of experience supporting complex preclinical research and drug discovery for government agencies, academic institutions and biotechnology companies.